

Job Description – Database / Data Warehouse Specialist

Title Database / Data Warehouse Specialist

Reports to:

Develop, implement, and maintain change control and testing processes for modifications to data systems.

Conduct research and make recommendations on data warehouse products, services, protocols, and standards in support of procurement and development efforts.

Evaluate, recommend, and select data warehouse components, including hardware, database management systems, ETL (extract, transform, load) software, data mining tools, and meta data management tools.

Participates in meetings and trainings as requested, reacts to change productively, and performs other duties as assigned.

